

Arden Library

27th March 2020

LIBRARY INFORMATION

Librarian:

Miss O'Brien

Twitter:

@ArdenLibrary

Google Classroom:

syrqcti

Activity of the Day

If stuck in quarantine for the next 3 weeks, and you can have one character from any book to be with you, who would it be? And from which book? And Why? :p

Submit your answers to the Google Classroom. ALL entries receive a House Point!

Library Update

The YA Book Prize shortlist for 2020 has been announced and, personally, I think it is one of the strongest shortlists we have seen in years!

You can read about the books and authors shortlisted on The Bookseller website here:

<https://www.thebookseller.com/ya-book-prize-2020/shortlist>

You may recognise two of the authors — Lauren James and Holly Jackson have both visited Arden this academic year.

We won't take all the credit if they win, but we will of course assume it was the Arden magic that helped them... okay, maybe not.

Wishing ALL the authors luck!

Book Recommendations

Young Adult (Y9+) - YA Book Prize

If you can get hold of the shortlisted books, do read them! You can read the opening chapter of each book here: <https://www.thebookseller.com/ya-book-prize-2020/shortlist>

Do you have a book recommendation?

Submit via Google Classroom and you could see it published in the next Arden Library e-zine! Aim to keep the review under 50 words, please.

Teen (Y7 & 8) - The Mystery of Alice

audible ORIGINAL

LEE BACON

ONLY FROM audible

Thirteen-year-old Emily Poe has been given the opportunity of a lifetime: A chance to attend the exclusive Audyn School in Manhattan. But to win the scholarship, she has to pass a test like nothing she's ever experienced before: A nearly bare room, a set of strange clues, a locked door. And a mysterious organization - the Leopold Foundation - that's watching her every move.

"Reading gives us someplace to go when we have to stay where we are" - Mason Cooley